#	Project Name (alphabetical)	Project Description	$ Requested	$ Approved by EAC
1.	Big Lake Environment Support Society (BLESS)	Reprinting of BLESS's Bird Guide to Lois Hole Centennial Provincial Park. This book has recently 'sold out'. BLESS would like to use the proceeds from the sales of this guide to fund their activities to conserve the lake and the Sturgeon River.	$2,861.00	$0
2.	Coal Mine Park Stewards	Continue with the development of the pollinator garden and increase the volunteer base in being stewards to this public space. Planning to use a solar power water system to improve the success rate of expanding the pollinator garden and survival of existing native plants in the space. Planning to use this space as an education space for native and non-native plants, and to showcase the native pollinators in action.	$1,500.00	$1,500.00
3.	St. Albert-Sturgeon Metis Local Garden	Expand and continue to grow the Metis garden plot to provide fresh	$4,000.00	$4,000.00 vegetables to Métis Local members facing food instability and offers a space for cultural exchange, where gardening skills and traditional plant knowledge are passed down. It also addresses the need for traditional plants and medicines that are meaningful to Métis culture, fostering community connections and supporting cultural practices.

4.	Wildrose Elementary School	Involves Grade 1 and Grade 2 students at Wild Rose Elementary School, who will visit Salisbury Greenhouse to learn about planting and caring for strawberry plants. In addition, students will attend sessions with Raymond Potts and Dr. Jones to explore Traditional Indigenous Knowledge before planting native species on the school grounds as part of the St. Albert Naturalization Projects. The initiative aims to deepen children's understanding of food production, environmental stewardship, and the value of Indigenous knowledge in preserving the natural world.	$4,000.00	$4,000.00
