

SUMMARY OF CURRENT SERVICES, PROGRAMS AND INITIATIVES FOR INDIGENOUS PEOPLE IN ST. ALBERT

1. City and City supported services, programs and initiatives:

Street Signs

The city has a number of street signs which included both English and Cree names.

Founders Walk

Signage and storyboards throughout the historic walk include Cree, French and English, recognizing the community's strong Métis and Francophone heritage.

The Healing Garden

The Healing Garden is a partnership project to create a site for truth and reconciliation as a visible sign of the community's commitment to form positive relationships with the First Nations, Metis, and Inuit people in St. Albert.

St. Albert Blanket Exercise

The St. Albert Blanket Exercise committee is comprised of representatives from Michif Cultural Connections, St. Albert United Church, St. Albert Family Resource Centre, St. Albert Community & Social Development and community volunteers. In 2017 this committee has hosted a Blanket Exercise for the City of St. Albert Administrative Assistants retreat as well as a recent one for municipal, provincial and federal government representatives (city counsellor, MLA and MP in attendance).

St. Albert Social Master Plan – Diversity and Inclusion

CSD created a series of community snapshots that took a look at the issues affecting marginalized communities. Although no specific work has stemmed from those snapshots, the “It Starts With Me” campaign is being headed by CSD.

Started in 2016, at the beginning of each ‘It Starts With Me’ City of St. Albert staff learning session, as well as other workshops that we facilitate, a welcome is read which includes an acknowledgement of Treaty 6 and the people who have lived here for thousands of years. A fall animation video is being planned to acknowledge Treaty 6 land.

Full-Time Staff at CSD

A business case for 2019 was submitted in 2017 for a full-time staff to address the unique human service needs of FNMI youth, adults and families who live in St. Albert.

This position would provide culturally sensitive liaison services within the municipality and interim grant funding is being pursued.

The Collective

Out of The Collective, the current case load consists of 56% self-identifying Indigenous youth. A lot of the work is focused on postsecondary planning, but The Collective also looks at linking Indigenous youth to cultural support agencies, finding culturally and spiritually supportive addictions programs for our Aboriginal and Metis youth, and supporting them to access funding through their bands.

Michif Cultural Connections

The mandate of the Michif Institute is to promote, preserve, and protect the Metis culture in the area. They house a collection of artifacts and resources, and programs, including cultural circles and workshops, youth justice mentoring, and a variety of events such as the Metis Spring Festival, National Aboriginal Day, Metis Flag Raising, and Powwows. They are a partner in the blanket exercise, as well as a partner with the museum in delivering cultural awareness training.

The Project of Heart is a hands-on, collaborative, inter-generational project that seeks to share the history of Aboriginal people in Canada. It's purpose is to examine the history and legacy of Indian Residential Schools in Canada and seek the truth about that history, leading to the acknowledgement of the extent of loss to former students, their families and communities, as well as call Canadians to action, through social justice endeavours, to change our present and future history collectively. Students participated in 2016 – 2017 by creating mosaic tiles to reflect this goal.

Nechi Institute

The Nechi Institute is located on the border of St. Albert in Sturgeon County. It is an indigenous training, research, and health promotion institute that offers courses and accreditation to indigenous students in Alberta and Canada. A wide variety of courses are available to students who undergo a formal application process and matriculate with the Institute.
